Internal Revenue Service Inspection Employer identification number Name of the organization 23-3033043 Pennsylvania Building Officials Conference Other: PART III - PRIMARY EXEMPT PURPOSE The organization's primary purpose is to educate the building code community and the general public on building code topics in Pennsylvania. Members' professional abilities regarding an understanding and capabilities to administer the Pennsylvania Uniform Construstion Code (UCC) are advanced through the organization's communications, training, and education activities. The UCC is a state law that adopts, by reference, the International Code Council's (ICC) building codes for statewide implementation. The organization assists members and municipalities as they interact in employment relationships. Assistance is provided regarding administrative matters between members, their municipal employers, and state and federal jurisdictions. The general public is educated through interactions with members and the organization and the public at large. Issues of significance include the need for and value of building codes, the manner in which they are established and implemented, and their applicability to individual projects. The organization serves as a neutral education resource, not an advocate for a particular position. The need for the uniform and impartial implementation of properly enacted code is foremost. PART III - LINE 28 Annual Conference: The organization presents an annual educational conference for members and others interested in code enforement. Subjects presented address proper interpretation and application of codes. Emerging materials, products and techniques are discussed in light of code requirements. Training of interest formal presentations.

Education via Website: The organization maintained website is regularly updated to provide information regarding the organization, its regional affiliates, various training opportunities, statutory and/or regulatory enactments and recent court decisions. Individuals affected by bulding codes visit the website to get answers to a variety of code related issues in a nonconfrontational environment. Members and vendors take advantage of this information exchange/linkage. The public has access to most of the wesite content. Over 4,000 individuals have visited and read posts on the discussion boards. The website is also a vibrant "help-wanted" bulletin board linking prospective employees and employers. Reacting to information on the website, individuals affected by building codes call the organization to get answers to code related issues in a nonconfrontational environment. Callers are not expected to identify themselves; this anonymity allows ope	en discussion.
Responses are fact based and impartial. It is estimated that two o	calls from the public are received weekly. Members and vendors take advantage of a free informal telephone information exchange/linkage among members. In all regards, calls and/or email inquiries are directed to appropriate resource persons for 1	response.
PART I	II - LINE 30
Education by Collaboration/Fa	cilitation:
The organization directly and in collaboration with groups sharing	g common interests, and regional training partners develops, presents, promotes, or co	ollaborates in training opportunities for members, the regulated community, de	esigners and others on narrowly focused areas of interest to individuals in or affected by the UCC. Collaborating with, advancing or facilitiating the educational activities of regional groups, these opportunities are dispersed across the commonwealth.
It is estimated that approximately 3,000 training hours are delivered annually through PENNBOC associated, affiliated, or promoted training events. PENNBOC collaborates with a network of like-interested organizations.

PART III - LINE 31	Education by Facilitation/Coordination: The organization facilitates an eleva-	ted level of continueing education recognition by the national accrediting body the International Code Council (ICC). The organization works with its region leaders	to assure that CEU training provided to members to maintain accreditiation sa	tisfies the ICC's enhanced requirements. Establishing and maintaining a robust	database of individual participation documentation tasks are beyond the capabil	ity of volunteer region leaders. PENNBOC, the state level organization, provides the	se administrative sevices without cost. PENNBOC's annual singular subscription to the	ICC's Preferred (training)Partnership Program (PPP) saves each participating region approximately $200 in avoided fees. Administrative duties and transcript document	mailings are handled by PENNBOC; this also lets regions avoid the costs asso	ciated with the same.
ADDITIONAL INFORMATION	Review of the 990EZ by those charged with governance: When the 990EZ is prepare	red in draft, it is first reviewed by the administrator, then by the treasurer. I	t is then circulated to the full board of directors (BOD)to enable a fully informe	d approval/disapproval action. Depending on the date the draft is completed and its temporal	al proximity to a BOD meeting, it will either be included in the meeting agenda	and acted on in the meeting or it will be distributed electronically (E-distr	ibution) to all BOD members. The E-distribution process assures every BOD members	r's receipt of the 990EZ and each individual vote is recorded; the action is no	t consummated until a quorum has received the 990EZ form. Minutes are created and submitted to the subsequent meeting for adoption.
